MINOR REVISION 31 Oct 2023

Dear Author,
Thank you for studying an important subject. The article has a good format.
As you have mentioned in your article, there are some side effects after using herbal drugs for jaundice. If you have noticed or studied these side effects, the findings on these side effects could complete your study.
Thank you

Thank you for choosing me for review of the article entitled “Who are the main recommenders of Herbal drugs for treating neonatal jaundice?l”. This article will not be of interest to the readers of the journal because it does not provide significant and important findings.

We added the complication and think it converted to a important finding.

We changed it.

- Abstract

There is a structured Abstract but Keywords are not selected from MESH and must be added herbal drugs

We added it.

The article has only mentioned the recommendations for the use of these drugs and has not stated the results

As a scientific study, the improvement of the results of the use of these drugs was also expressed
